Mining Indaba: Investing in African Mining

Who We Are

Investing in African Mining Indaba is where the world comes together to shape the future of African mining. Since 1994, we have been a driving force for investment, innovation, and collaboration, bringing together industry leaders, investors, and changemakers. More than just an event, we are a catalyst for growth, connecting people and ideas that will transform the mining sector and create lasting impact.

Our Mission

Our mission is to unlock the full potential of African mining by inspiring investment, fostering partnerships and championing responsible growth. We believe in the power of collaboration to drive innovation, create opportunities and build a sustainable future. Through bold conversations and meaningful connections, we are shaping an industry that benefits communities, economies, and generations to come.

Who Will You Meet

Mining Indaba isn't just an event – it's where the future of African mining is shaped. In 2025, the entire mining ecosystem came together, creating a powerful platform for collaboration, investment, and transformation. By exhibiting or sponsoring in 2026, you position your brand at the heart of these critical conversations, gaining direct access to decision-makers and industry leaders who are driving real change.

Every key player shaping the industry will be there:

- Mining executives and influencers – setting the direction for the sector.
- Government leaders and decision-makers – creating policies that shape the future.
- Global investors – seeking the next big opportunity.
- African community representatives – ensuring mining benefits local economies.
- Young professionals – bringing fresh innovation and future-proofing the industry.
- Downstream buyers – strengthening supply chains and securing long-term partnerships.
- Procurement and Supply Chain leaders – making critical purchasing decisions that drive operational success and efficiency.

As the industry evolves, so do the opportunities. Mining Indaba 2026 is your chance to showcase your brand, connect with the right audience, and be part of the movement shaping Africa's mining future. Secure your space today!

Why Mining Indaba: Strategic Value

Unmatched Access to Industry Leaders

Mining Indaba is where 10,500+ of the most influential decision makers, senior executives, and government leaders gather to shape the future of African mining. As an exhibitor or sponsor, you don't just attend – you gain direct access to the key players driving investment, policy, and innovation in the sector. This is your opportunity to make powerful connections, spark meaningful conversations, and unlock new business opportunities.

Elevate Your Brand on a Global Stage

With a global audience spanning 122 countries and extensive media coverage, Mining Indaba offers unparalleled brand exposure. By exhibiting or sponsoring, your company stands in the spotlight – showcasing its expertise, products, and solutions to an engaged audience of industry decision-makers. This is more than just visibility; it's credibility, influence, and industry leadership in action.

Drive Business Growth & Forge New Partnerships

Mining Indaba is where deals happen. With thousands of investors, buyers, and business leaders in attendance, this is the perfect platform to generate high-value leads, build strategic partnerships, and secure new contracts. Whether you're launching a new solution or expanding your market reach, you'll be face-to-face with the right people to make it happen.

Position Yourself as an Industry Leader

Sponsoring or exhibiting at Mining Indaba signals that your company is at the forefront of the industry. Join mining companies such as B2Gold, Barrick Gold Corporation, Eramet, Exxaro, Kinross Gold, Ndalamo Resources, Newmont Africa and Rio Tinto in showcasing your leadership and commitment to the sector. This is your chance to shape the conversation, demonstrate your dedication to mining's future, and highlight how your business is driving the industry forward. Thought leadership, industry influence, and strategic positioning – this is where it all comes together.
